Walt Whitman's "Drum-Head" is a poem about a woman who has been killed in a war. The poem is written in a simple, direct style and is one of Whitman's most famous works. It is a tribute to the women who suffered during the American Civil War. The poem is a powerful statement on the cost of war and the impact it has on the lives of the people who are left behind. It is a beautiful and moving piece of poetry that has inspired many readers over the years.
